

Isle of Grain Power Station Cooling Inlet

Using a 3D SONAR probe deployed into position on the outside of the cooling water inlet cage by a diver, we mapped the sediment build up inside the structure to enable effective and targeted dredging to be undertaken.

